BADLANDS™

- Advanced 4x4 with twin-clutch rear drive unit
- Rear differential lock feature
- Metal bash plates

2.0L ECOBOOST® WITH TWIN-CLUTCH REAR DRIVE UNIT

The heart of the Bronco Sport Badlands trim is an engine capable of pumping out 250 hp[1] and 277 lb.-ft. of torque.[1] Powering treks into terrain rough enough to give the Advanced 4x4 and off-road suspension something to do.[2] While a rear differential lock feature takes advantage of the twin-clutch rear drive unit to allow greater off-road performance. A SelectShift® automatic transmission with paddle shifters is included as well.

BADLANDS. Cyber Orange Metallic Tri-coat.[3] Available equipment and available Ford Accessories. Recreational equipment not included.

1. Horsepower and torque ratings based on premium fuel per SAE J1349® standard. Your results may vary. Horsepower and torque are independent attributes and may not be achieved simultaneously. 2. Always consult the Owner's Manual before off-road driving, know your terrain and trail difficulty, and use appropriate safety gear. 3. Additional charge.

TAKING YOU TO THE TRAILHEAD

There's always some obstacle between the road and the trail. Which is why the Ford Bronco™ Sport Badlands™ trim brings plenty along for the ride. Useful technologies include Trail Control,™ which works as a low-speed cruise control so you can focus on steering when off-road. And the 180-Degree Camera[1] with Split View and Washer, which provides clear pictures of what's ahead and behind you. As well as 2 additional G.O.A.T. Modes™ (Goes Over Any Type of Terrain): Mud/Ruts and Rock Crawl. There's also the metal bash plates, which add protection where it's needed most.

1. Driver-assist features are supplemental and do not replace the driver's attention, judgment and need to control the vehicle. It does not replace safe driving. See Owner's Manual for details and limitations.

STANDING THE TEST OF NATURE
No one would call the famed King of the Hammers race in Johnson Valley, California, home – except the Ford Bronco family. Born and bred on the punishing terrains and extreme conditions of this legendary off-road course, this is where the Bronco Sport Badlands put its High-Performance, Off-Road, Stability, Suspension (HOSS) System to the test, and proved it lives up to its name.

BADLANDS. Area 51. Available equipment and available Ford Accessories.

DRIVE MODES

WITH A KICK

The "Goes Over Any Type of Terrain" G.O.A.T. Modes™ specifically tailor performance to match the terrain you're driving on. Dry sand, wet roads, rocky outcrops, there's a mode for all kinds of situations. Even an ECO mode, for a more conservative driving experience. What's equally exciting is knowing that you can change these modes on the fly as the situation changes around you.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE
If the going gets soggy, a standard 17.7" of water-fording potential[1] provides you the leg up to keep your shoes dry. With the Ford Bronco™ Sport Badlands™ model, and its available bigger tires, that number goes to 23.6."[1]

OUTER BANKS.™ Bronze Smoke Metallic. Available equipment and available Ford Accessories. Recreational equipment not included.

1. Try to avoid water higher than the bottom of the hubs and proceed slowly. Refer to your Owner's Manual for detailed information regarding driving through water.

From day one, we had the future in mind. And over 118 years later, we continue that tradition of innovation. Ford Co-Pilot360™ Technology is helping push us closer to autonomous driving. The latest generation of voice-activated SYNC® fosters untethered communication. And our fully electric vehicles – the all-new 2022 Ford F-150 Lightning® pickup and the Mustang Mach-E® SUV – are charging across America.

We've always had our mind on the future. Now we're building it.
